North DeSoto standouts Bayli Simon and Emma Callie Delafield, along with Calvary's Sarah Chamberlain and Emily Daniel, headline selections for the 2017 Louisiana High School Coaches' Association All-Star West Team recently announced by the LHSCA and the Louisiana Softball Coaches Association.

The West will be coached by Calvary's Tiffany Frazier with assistance from Northside Christian's Ryan Hanagriff.

"I'm excited. I can mark this off my softball coaching bucket list," Frazier said. "It's something my dad did and now I get to coach two great North DeSoto players and two great Calvary players."

The selectees, which must be seniors and recommended by their coaches, will play two games May 12-13 in Pineville at Louisiana College.

Both Louisiana Tech signees, Simon and Daniel will provide the offensive firepower for their team, while Delafield, a Northwestern signee, and Chamberlain, a Ouachita Baptist signee, hope to rule things on the mound.

Delafield, the reigning Times All-Area Player of the Year, has led the Lady Griffins to consecutive LHSAA Class 4A state titles. Chamberlain, the reigning Times All-City Pitcher of the Year, pitched the Lady Cavs to the LHSAA Class 2A state title last spring.

"I am very proud of EC and Bayli. I don't know of two more deserving young ladies," North DeSoto coach Lori McFerren said. "They love the game and give extra daily."

Florien's Meghan Burkett is also a member of the West squad.

Louisiana Tech signee Jensen Howell (Menard), UL Lafayette signee Carrie Boswell (Alexandria Senior High) and Cedar Creek standout Mary Terral headline the East Team. ASH coach Erica Harwell will direct the East, assisted by West Ouachita's Ashley Hoyle. Ouachita's Morgan Adams and Nicole Skerlong will also play for the East.
